User Login

The diagram illustrates a user login process. It features a light blue rectangular form with a grey header bar at the top containing a downward-pointing triangle and the text "Login". Inside the form, there are two labels: "Username:" and "Password:", each followed by a white rectangular input field. To the right of the "Username:" field, a blue arrow points to the text "Enter Username". Similarly, to the right of the "Password:" field, a blue arrow points to the text "Enter Password". Below the input fields, centered within the form, is a grey button labeled "Login". A large blue arrow points downwards from the "Login" button to the text "Submit Login Credentials" located below the form.
